

Denise Hackendahl

dhackendahl@loutel.com

Denise Hackendahl is a dynamic, strategic Human Resources professional with extensive experience delivering executive-level HR consulting and talent acquisition services to a diverse range of clients. She has been instrumental in assisting companies in various industries nationwide including those in financial services, manufacturing, healthcare, hospitality, automotive, long-term care, professional services and the nonprofit sector.

Denise has proven success in creating cultures of collaboration and implementing change to achieve workforce excellence. With her strong background in navigating complex and sensitive employee matters, Denise has played a key role in mitigating risk while delivering positive, high-impact outcomes for her clients.

She has a natural ability to connect with employees at all levels of an organization, fostering a positive and inclusive work environment. Denise leverages her strong leadership and relationship-building skills to drive results and create meaningful change.

Her breadth of experience covers all aspects of human resources including recruitment, onboarding/offboarding, employee relations, training and development, policy development, performance management, compliance, benefits and payroll. Through her talent acquisition expertise, Denise brings an innate ability to align candidates with organizations, ensuring the strongest possible fit for both.

Ms. Hackendahl holds her B.S. degree in Organizational Management from LaSalle University and her M.B.A. in Human Resource Management from Temple University. She is also a Certified HR Professional through SHRM (Society for Human Resource Management).